views to be exhibited will constitute the program.

As a special attraction Mr. Toney has engaged Dennis O'Neil and Carl Garrett, who will appear in their laughable comedy entitled, "Fifteen Minutes in Dinky Town." These two local boys need no introduction to Richmond's theatregoing public, as they have appeared here on various occasions, but not as professionals.

Almost of equal importance will be the entries of May De Vaul, character change artist; Howe and Edwards, in "The Arrival of Mr. Dooley"; Marcella Marion, a dainty singing comedienne, and Bland and Clayton, clever sister team.

Four new pictures are displayed at each performance.

Shows are continuous every week-day from 2:15 to 5:30 in the afternoon and from 7:15 to 10:45 at night.

A Feature at the Virginia.

"The Ways of Destiny" in two parts, a strong social drama that begins in the green fields and leads the spectator through a labyrinth of middle-class and high society, following the career of a beautiful girl, the adopted daughter of a kind-hearted old shepherd, who is killed by a stroke of lightning, is the unusual picture which will be offered at the Virginia Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

SUIT TO RECOVER STOLEN FUNDS

Brokerage Firm Believed to Have Money Embezzled by Cashier.

New York, January 25.—Alfred A. Cook, attorney for the High Bridge National Bank, announced to-night that he had received instructions from the Comptroller of the Currency to bring suit immediately against the brokerage firm of C. I. Hudson & Co. for the recovery of approximately $85,000 of the suspended bank's money, lost in speculation by its cashier, Abram L. Beavers. This announcement followed a conference with Bank Examiner Fowler, who came from High Bridge to lay before the lawyer some of the results of the investigation he has been making of the bank's condition.

Mr. Fowler's examination will not be completed before the middle of the week, and until then the exact amount of the shortage cannot be ascertained. Suit, however, will be brought on the figures obtained in Beavers' written confession.

It was learned to-day that the examination being made into the bank's affairs, indicates that all of Beavers' financial difficulties are of a date later than last October.

Foster M. Voorhees, a former Governor of New Jersey, who is acting as counsel for Beavers, said that his client is in no sense a fugitive from justice. He is holding himself in seclusion, the lawyer said, and as soon as he has arranged to give bail, which he expects to do early in the week, he will surrender to the Federal authorities and plead guilty.

United States Commissioner Stockton, of Newark, denied the report that a warrant had been issued for Beavers' arrest, and the district attorney's office also declared that no such step had been taken.

TRAFFIC STOPPED BY AVALANCHES OF SNOW

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Tacoma, Washington, January 25.—Another series of avalanches has stopped traffic on the Great Northern Railroad through the Cascade Mountains.

Last night slides buried the Great Northern tracks west of the Cascade tunnel to a depth of forty feet or more, with snow and debris. The Burlington passenger train from Kansas City was held in the snow shed at Alvin this morning. A rotary snow plow on the Milwaukee Railway was caught by an avalanche and completely wrecked last night near the summit of the Sniqualmie Pass. One snow shoveler was killed, and forty saved their lives by jumping. The slide was the largest yet experienced on the Milwaukee road.

Heavy rains on Thursday night and on Friday caused yesterday's avalanche.

MAY DANCE FLIP AND TURKEYTROT

They Will Not Be Barred at Ball to Be Given by Southern League.

PLANS NOW UNDER WAY

Designed to Take Place of Inaugural Affair Barred by Wilson.

Washington, January 25.—Visitors to the inauguration ceremonies, if they care to remain in the national capital for two extra days, will not be deprived of the glories of an "inaugural ball," for the Southern League of the Women's National Wilson and Marshall organization has determined to supply the deficiency on the evening of March 6. Dignified dancing of the "turkey trot" will not be prohibited, according to the leaders, and the "tango" and "chicken flip" and the "bunny hug" will be permitted if they are danced with due decorum.

Beginning to-day the managers of the proposed ball will plan to handle the crowd that is expected to attend. No arrangements as yet have been made and the chief problem is to secure a hall large enough in which to care for the throng. Whether the affair will be invitational, the expense to be borne by the league, or whether it will be made a subscription dance, has not been determined.

President-elect Wilson will be the guest of honor at a reception at the White House to be given here for him the night of March 3 by the Princeton Alumni Association of Washington. The President-Elect has accepted the invitation. Invitations will be sent to the 8,500 living Princeton graduates. The association is also making arrangements for the Princeton graduates and their families to occupy a section of one of the reviewing stands for the inaugural parade March 4.

The American Woman Suffrage Association won a victory over the local inaugural committee to-day at a hearing before the Senate Committee on Buildings and Grounds. The committee determined to grant the women the right to build a reviewing stand opposite the Treasury for the suffrage parade March 3, unless the inaugural committee will consent to the use of the stands now being built for the review of the inaugural parade March 4.

Thus far the inaugural committee has declined to permit the women to make use of any of the official stands on the day before the inauguration. Notwithstanding the strenuous opposition of the inauguration officials, the Senate gave the suffragists the assurance that they might erect a big stand opposite the Treasury portfolio.

DOES NOT CLAIM TALK OF SPIRITS

Dr. Hyslop Explains Psychical Phenomena in Which Name of James Was Used.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) New York, January 25.—Dr. James A. Hyslop has written a letter on the subject of the article in the Journal of the American Psychical Research about spirit communication from William James, who was professor of philosophy at Harvard. He says:

"There was not one word in our article on the young boy which claimed that there was any spirit communication, either from Professor James or from anybody else. It was reported solely as an instance of hysteria and dissociation, which was especially valuable for showing that conjurers are not proper judges of these phenomena usually."

"The interesting incidents in the case were that the boy was a spectator among the rest of us of the phenomena; that his hands and feet were seized by anesthesia or insensibility, enabling him to do the things himself without knowing it; that he prepared for the performances beforehand without having any normal memory whatever of this preparation, and that he exhibited subconscious phenomena of impersonation that included the usual twaddle and in that the name of Professor James and others occurred."

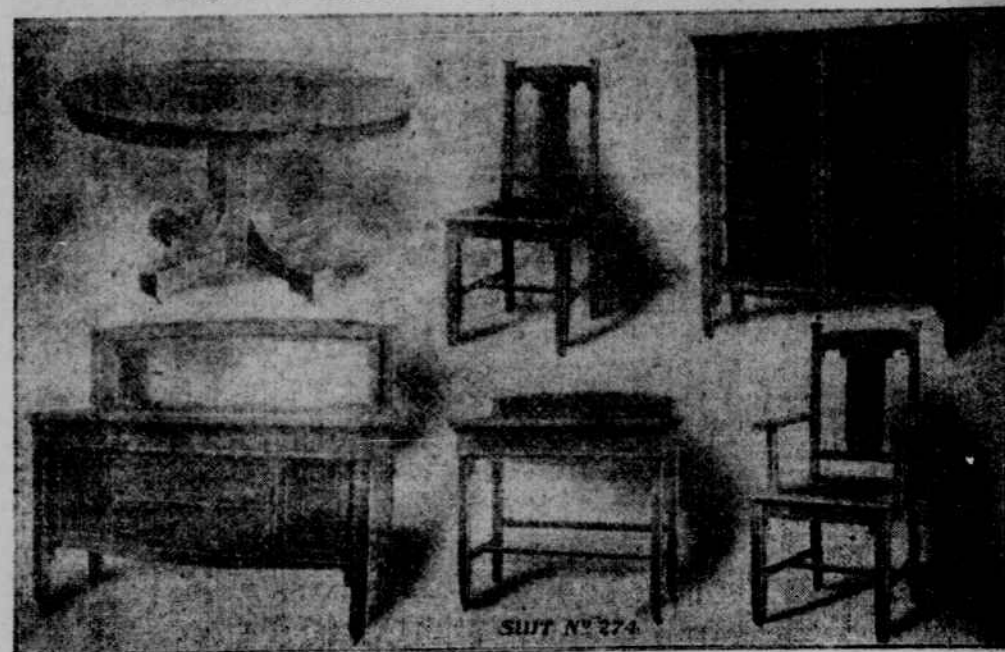

"I insisted that all the nonsense should receive the same sort of recognition in a scientific statement of the facts as anything that might have been more remarkable. There were a few supernatural phenomena in the case, but not enough to justify any theory. The central point of interest and incident emphasized was the hysteria, which will make the case classical against the judgment of laymen, who are so ready to about "fraud" where we really have nothing but somnambulism to deal with.

"It is time that this subject be taken out of the hands of the public and the conjuror and to have the student of abnormal psychology look into the facts. That was the principal lesson of the article and the only lesson that I cared to enforce in it."

KILLS YOUNG WOMAN

AND COMMITTS SUICIDE.

Jacksonville, Fla., January 25.—C. P. Long, a wealthy, wholesale liquor merchant, to-day shot and killed Miss Susan Brown, of Wilmington, Del., aged twenty-three, and then committed suicide. The double tragedy took place in Long's office after the two had engaged in a quarrel. According to reports to the police, Long and the young woman visited a road-house during the night and are said to have drunk heavily.

PERUVIAN AVIATOR FLIES ACROSS SWISS ALPS

Domodossola, Italy, January 25.—Jean Bielevucci, the Peruvian aviator, flew across the Swiss Alps from Brig to this city in less than half an hour today. He ascended at Brig in his monoplane at noon, and landed here at exactly 12:25.

Bielevucci had been waiting for favorable weather since January 24. He followed the same course over the Simplon Pass as was taken by his compatriot, Chavez, in September, 1908. Chavez accomplished the flight, but in landing hurt himself severely, and later died from his injuries.
